UNIVERSITY OF WISCONSIN-MADISON

Funding Opportunities for Graduate Students

If your application file is complete by December 1, you will automatically be considered for all of the funding appointments described below. To be eligible for funding, performance applicants must complete a live audition.

Please note: There is NO extra application process for graduate funding. For certain positions, you will receive an invitation to submit a special letter of interest after you have been admitted.

While initial funding offers are made in March, positions often open up throughout the month of April. Multi-year funding guarantees are made based upon the availability of the funds and the desires of the student's area. You may hold a variety of appointments during the course of your studies. Please note the important differences among them.

All positions provide eligibility for health insurance and a full tuition waiver for the duration of the guarantee.
